Who we are?

School of techies is started by two technopreneurs with an intention to create more efficient designers and developers into the field. We feel that there's a gap between trainers and students because of lack of understanding.

School Of Techies is all about making people understand design and technology better and helping them provide design solutions. We are here to fill that gap of understanding by getting to know the students and looking at things from their perspective.

Teaching is an art form in and of itself. Instructing and training are not for everyone. Even after decades in the field, people find it difficult to teach. That's why we've come to help.

We have been in the Designing and Development training industry for more than 10 years now. We have interacted with thousands of students. During these years, we have understood that each student will have a different perspective to various things. We need to understand them to make sure what we teach reaches all the students. Only then it is fruitful for both students and the trainers.

That is why we put EMPATHY first! We not only teach empathy as a part of syllabus, but actually follow in real life. We listen, understand your perspective, strengths, weaknesses. It helps us know you better thus making us trainers teach you in a way each of you can understand.

I started my UX/UI Course in SOT for the duration of 5 months. In those 5 months I felt like, I was in a right place and I have the hope that, I will get placed in a good company, rather than teaching design and development they thought us how to improve our personal traits. Thanks to my mentor Weslin and Waziya for giving us a wonderful learning experience 🙏

Before joining SOT I was searching for good coaching centre after that I found SOT. I Joined in Full Stack Developer course and the teacher is prasanna Sir. After attending few sessions I came to know I had made a good decision joining this institute. the teaching is excellent and the way of presenting is so good and it can be understandable and practical. Assignments were given to me and it was according to the schedule of learning and get stronger in coding and designing. I have learned a lot of things and I am happy to be part of SOT Family.If you searching for good Institute this is the right place!

I can say honestly that this is a good platform to enhance our Technical Skills. Personally,I liked the way in which the trainers approached me and my batchmates.The mode of classes were also appreciable. Another thing to be noted is that they make class schedule according to the learner's comfort.I am grateful for my trainer for the journey through which I learnt Webdesigning and Javascript.

I really admire the dedication of our faculty here. Each every class was taken with full efforts and in way that a student understand properly and easily. It is really really useful for your future to have certification and a it might help getting you jobs even. I have found one of my batchmqtes to be a graphic designer in zoho company and was very proud. On the whole it is very good place for graphic designing, stack development, and website designing too.
